

Disadvantages of tourism

Tourism can often cause environmental damage with things like pollution and Forest Fire. Even if tourists like behave responsibly the sheer number of the then, can cause problems. Things like ancient buildings, monuments, and temples often struggle to cope with the vast amounts of tourist traffic and the severe wear and tear of damage.

The commercialization of culture can undermine the soul of a tourist destination local tradition that have a rich cultural heritage are reduced to wearing costumes and putting on acts for the tourists in return for money.

Tourists can often lack respect for local traditions and culture following local dress standards getting drunk in public or behaving rudely or inappropriately towards locals.

Although often jobs are created in tourism, most are relatively low level , such as day work , hotel service, restaurant serving and so forth. They also have prospect of promotion .

Tourism jobs are quite common but seasonal and insecure with no extra benefits , such as pensions sick pay or healthcare some areas can be inundated with visitors during busy times and then virtually deserted for many months.
